University Student Leadership Program

Be part of a goal-oriented team

From the Classroom...

- 2015 will mark the ninth season that California State University, Fullerton (CSUF) has offered its Leadership Program.
- We welcome university students who strive for careers in competitive global markets by joining this extraordinary opportunity to develop their leadership skills.
- Participants will learn how the meaning of leadership has evolved to fit an increasingly global and multi-cultural context.
- Participants put into action what is discussed in class. They will experience effective leadership directly as part of a goal-directed team.

...To the Real World

- Students discover and develop strengths they never knew they had.
