Instructor: Dr. John Patrick, Assistant Director of Forensics, Cal State San Luis Obispo

2:00PM-4:00PM

Location:

Team Building Activities

For any team to succeed, 8 or so essential roles must be carried out with leadership appropriate to each. Learn about these roles, how individuals change roles or take on more than one, and then based on each team's experience and each individual's self-assessment, all roles will be distributed among each team's 5 or so members.

Students will then cluster in new temporary teams according to self-assessment insights and role assignments. These teams will be formed each with a distribution of styles. The activity will culminate with a fun and friendly competition.

The kit of materials for the final project will be distributed to each team.

Day 12 – Tuesday, August 2, 2016 – Pomona

10:00AM-12:00PM

Location:

Public Speaking & Leadership

Public speaking, leadership and professional communication require self-knowledge as well as solid skills. An effective public speaker must know his audience, and that includes the cultural context for the public act of speech. A confident public speaker or communicator is also a good performer. This class will evoke everyone's personal talents, and help to mesh them appropriately with cultural norms so that each participant can shine.

Instructor: Dr. John Patrick, Assistant Director of Forensics, Cal State San Luis Obispo

2:00PM-4:00PM

Location:

Collaboration

What are the various models to get people working together, ranging from command and control through group consensus? Using examples from business, what are the most effective ways that our groups can work together toward a successful outcome? This class will guide our work in teams.

Instructor: Dr. John Patrick, Assistant Director of Forensics, Cal State San Luis Obispo
